School Bond Election Saturday

Polls will open at 8 a. m. Saturday in the Canyon City Hall for the $1 million school bond issue planned to build a new high school here.

A community meeting will be held Thursday night in the high school auditorium to explain the issue to the citizens of the community. A period for questions and answers will be provided.

The ballot, which is pictured in a full-page ad in this section of The Canyon News, will have two propositions—one for the bond issue and one for the adoption of the provisions of Senate Bill 116. A "For" vote is required on both propositions in order to pass the issue.

Mechanics of marking the ballot are simple. To vote "For" the bond issue, voters should scratch out both of the statements that begin with the word "Against."

In a study conducted by the growth trends committee this winter, an enrollment of 1800 is expected in the Canyon schools by 1963. The enrollment as of Tuesday afternoon was 1224, and is expected to grow higher as more students return to school this term.

The school board is planning to locate the new high school between 8th and 11th Streets and south of Ninth Avenue on a 32-acre tract. It is expected it will take $1 million to build and equip the new high school.

If the bond issue is approved, no tax rate increase will be necessary this year. Next year, the rate will be increased from the present $1.50 per hundred dollar valuation to $1.80. No general increase in valuations is planned.

The bond issue will be on a 23-year repayment schedule with an average interest rate of 3.79 per cent.

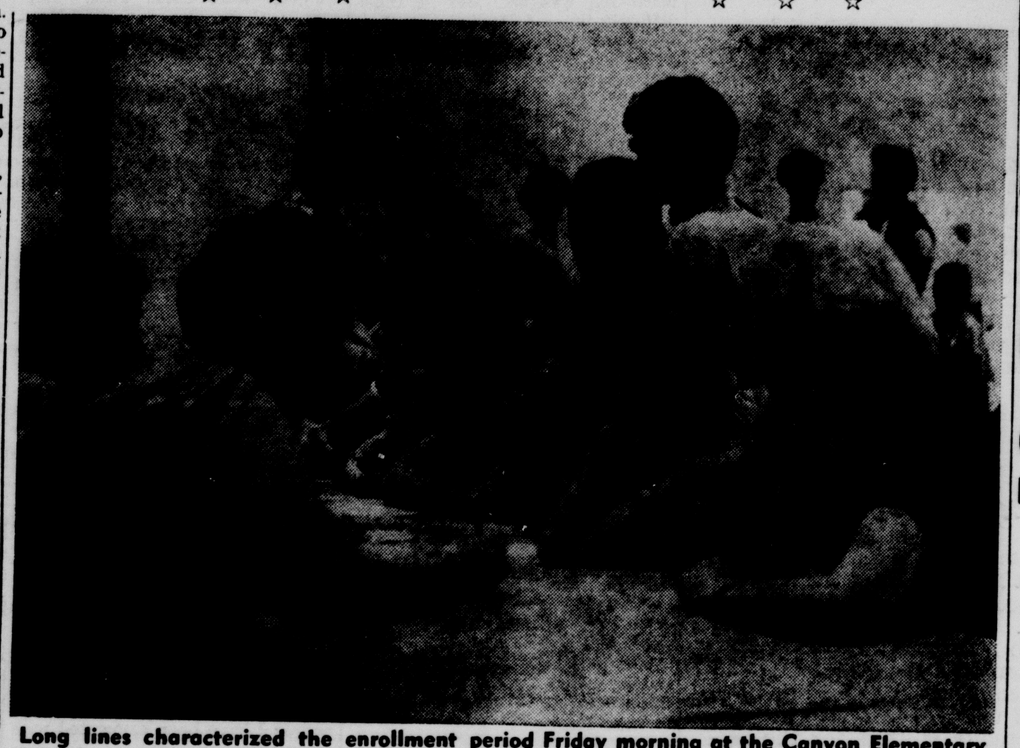

Senate Bill 116 is the popular name for legislation that allows school districts to divorce the maintenance and debt service taxes in order to raise enough money to make necessary construction. The provisions of the bill must be adopted by a vote of the people of the district.

Under the bill, the district may levy whatever tax is necessary to retire bonds, but the maintenance tax is limited whenever the ratio of bonded indebtedness to valuations grows greater than seven per cent. Canyon's present ratio is 3.77 per cent.

Eligible to vote in the election Saturday are all resident eligible voters who have rendered either real or personal property for taxation in the district.

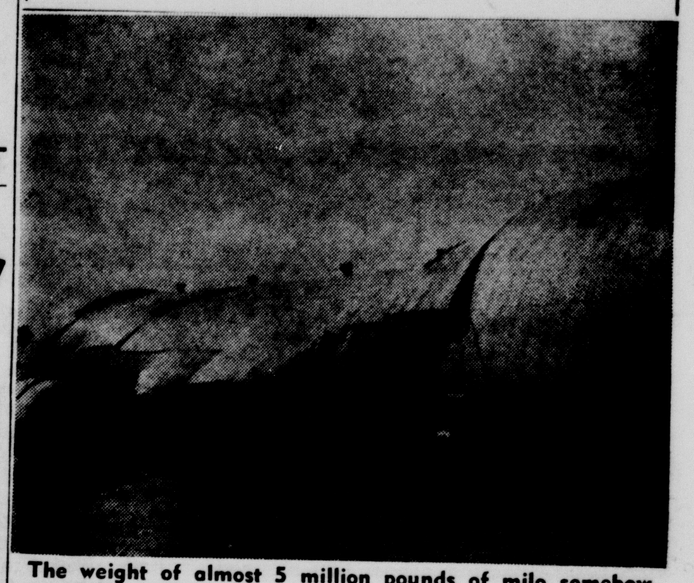

Members of the school board are A. C. Haley Jr., president, Walter Graham, vice president, Bill Sternenberg, secretary, Mrs. Clay Cooper, assistant secretary, Mrs. R. A. Neblett, Conway Kuykendall and J. O. Parker.

Long lines characterized the enrollment period Friday morning at the Canyon Elementary School. At the end of the first day of school Tuesday, there were 546 in the school. This picture is of the second grade table.

Community Meeting Set for Thursday

Questions about the proposed $1 million high school bond issue will be the highlight of a community meeting Thursday night in the high school auditorium. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m.

Bob Wear will be the master of ceremonies and reports of the Hale-Aikin, growth trends and building needs committees will be given. A panel discussion is also planned.

On the agenda for the meeting are the invocation by the Rev. Doyle Ragle, welcome by T. G. Hull Jr., president of the P-TA, and a report from the Hale-Aiken committees by Dr. J. B. Roberts, county chairman.

The growth trends report will be given by A. W. Lair and the building needs report will be given by Delbert Lowes. Members of the panel will be Lair, Lowes, the Rev. Strauss Atkinson, J. E. Miller and Wear.

In addition, Supt. Joe Gibson, board president A. C. Haley Jr. and a representative of the architectural firm will be available for questions.

The first half of the program is scheduled to last until 8:30 p.m. The questioning period will begin then, and the meeting will be officially adjourned at 9 p.m. Anyone wishing may remain after the adjournment to talk with members of the citizens committee.

Tri-State Fair Entries Sought

Wanted: The finest examples of Randall County agricultural products.

John Brazzil, county agent, is seeking the best of the county's fruit, vegetable and field crops for display in the Randall County's booth at the Tri-State Fair, to be held Sept. 22-27.

"We would like to have the most outstanding samples. Each year someone tells of better entries than we have, but then it's after the fair," said Brazzil.

The only restriction on entries, which may be in any of 77 classes, is that the product must have been grown in Randall County during 1958. Entries must be brought by Brazzil's office by Sept. 20. The agent will arrange the displays in the booth, but entries will be made in the name of the producer, who will receive any prize money or ribbon his entry wins.

Brazzil also urged 4-H boys and wheat farmers to enter samples in the fair's wheat show which carries one of the larger cash prizes in the show. Anyone desiring to enter may bring five pounds of cleaned wheat in a paper bag labeled with the producer's name and variety by Brazzil's office to be entered in the fair.

Mrs. Mona K. Hildreth, county home demonstration agent, is also seeking entries from Randall County residents in various departments of the fair. Possible divisions are culinary, junior culinary and textile.

The culinary department is broken into 62 classes of baked products and 96 classes of canned products, and the junior culinary has six classes of candies, 18 classes of baked products and 21 classes of canned products.

The textile department is split into the junior division for children 12 years and under; teenage division, 12 to 18 years; and senior division sewing.

Any person desiring additional information is invited to call either agent or to consult the Tri-State Fair catalog.

First Day Shows 1224 in Schools

An additional 35 students enrolled in Canyon schools this year, to bring the first day total to 1224 in the three schools. Last year's beginning total was 1189.

More students are expected this week as parents return from vacation and college people move here in preparation for the WT school year.

The greatest increase in enrollment was in the high school, with 43 new students. The enrollment stood at 347 Tuesday afternoon, and it was 304 at the same time last year.

There are 28 fewer students in the elementary school, as the extra large class that was in the fifth grade last year moved to junior high. The elementary enrollment is 546, as compared with 574 last year.

The junior high has 20 additional pupils, a total of 331 as compared with 311 last year.

Enrollment in the Canyon schools has risen steadily in the past few years. Figures at the beginning of school in the past three years are 1087 in 1955, 1108 in 1956 and 1189 in 1957.

City Commission Changes Speed Limits on Parts of Highways 87, 217

New speed limits on Highways 87 and 217 in Canyon will take effect on Sept. 13, according to an ordinance passed by the city commission. The ordinance follows the recommendations of the state highway department.

On Highway 87, 23rd Street, the new limits will be 40 miles per hour from the north city limits to Second Avenue, 35 miles per hour from Second Avenue to Sixth Avenue, 40 miles per hour from Sixth Avenue to Eleventh Avenue and 45 miles per hour from Eleventh Avenue to the south city limits.

On Highway 217, Fourth Avenue, the new speed limits will be 45 miles an hour from the east city limits to 26th Street and 30 miles per hour from 26th Street through town.

The state highway department took a survey of speeds on the two highways during July, and found that most drivers stay within those limits.

The survey on Highway 87 showed that 85 per cent of the southbound drivers between Twelfth and Thirteenth Avenues made 44 miles an hour and it was 50 miles an hour northbound.

Between Ninth and Tenth Avenues it was 40 southbound and 42 northbound. Between Fifth and Sixth Avenues it was 34 southbound and 32 northbound.

At the traffic light, the southbound speed was 34 and the northbound speed was 32. At Second Avenue the survey showed 85 per cent driving 34 southbound and 30 northbound. The speed at the north city limits was 40 southbound and 36 northbound.

On Highway 217, the 85 per cent-speed at the east city limits was 46 eastbound and 46 westbound. At 27th Street the speed was 40 eastbound and 38 westbound.

Between 24th and 25th Streets the survey showed 30 miles an hour eastbound and 34 westbound. Between 21st and 22nd Streets the eastbound traffic was 32 miles an hour and 30 miles an hour westbound.

Canyon Eagles Travel To Slaton To Open 1958 Football Season

The Canyon Eagles have the experience of two night practices and a night scrimmage with Clovis under their belts as they prepare for the first game of the season Friday night against the District 3-AA Slaton Tigers.

The game will begin at 8 p. m. in Tiger Stadium, and will be broadcast by radio station KAMQ of Amarillo beginning at 7:50 p.m.

One casualty came out of the scrimmage with Clovis. Tackle Larry Kitchens dislocated some of the bones in his right foot on the first play, and it is expected he will not rejoin the team before the latter part of October.

The Eagles downed Clovis five touchdowns to four in the scrimmage. Both teams had the ball for four offensive periods, taking the ball on their own 30-yard line. Each time either had the ball, one score was made—except the Eagles made an extra touchdown in their second time with the ball.

The first score was picked up by quarterback Jerry Richardson on a two-yard sneak. Halfback Eddie Boydstun made the second on a four-yard run and Larry Brotherton made the third on a one-yard plunge.

Halfback Tommy Henderson picked up the fourth score on a 70-yard gallop and Boydstun punched over for the fifth on a 10-yard sweep around right end.

Slaton scrimmaged last Friday with O'Donnell, in District 5-A. The Tigers punched over six scores to one for the smaller school. Eagle coach John Howle said the Tigers were in good shape and looked as if they would be a tough team to beat.

The Eagles worked out on Buffalo Stadium Monday and Tuesday nights in order to get used to the lights. Coach Bill Davis said the team is working hard and is shaping up well.

As might be expected, the scrimmage showed up weaknesses in the Eagles' play and this week's practices are devoted to correcting the mistakes and working on Slaton's offense.

In last year's game with Slaton, the Eagles won 26-13 from three runs and a pass. Against Slaton last year, Boydstun made 98 yards rushing and Ronnie Huyck picked up 11 more. None of the rest of this year's backs played in the game.

. . . The Tiger Captains

Co-Captains for the Slaton Tigers for this year are Howard Limmer, left, and Jerry Hogue. Both are seniors.

More Attention to Signs

Now that school has started again, maybe we drivers will pay more attention to the signs we see. At least we should pay attention to the signs.

We mean those which caution us about children. There are those out on the highways which say something like, "Cars driving in either direction must stop before passing school bus stopped to load or unload children."

Those school buses will be out on the highways twice a day for five days each week from now until next spring. Keep an eye open for them, if for no other reason than we expect the traffic courts would throw the whole set of law books at offenders brought in.

And there are other signs. Those down around the schools that command "Stop." And others that caution "12 miles per hour." And on the highway in front of the elementary school there are signs that say "School Zone" and a policewoman is stationed there to remind you about the school zone signs.

You see, we're not too worried about what might happen to the school kids. Of course if one were hit, it would be an awful mess and everyone would feel bad. But that just couldn't happen—we all know that.

No, what we're worried about is that some of our readers might accidentally disobey one of the traffic signs and get caught. They'd be taken or sent to court, and they'd have to pay fines. We don't want that to happen to any of our friends, hence this friendly reminder of the hazards of driving this fall and winter.

Manageable Size

Did you ever wonder just how big a billion dollars is? It's pretty hard for us little folk to comprehend, so maybe we can dramatize it in an understandable fashion.

Let's see. Say you make $5,000 a year. How long would it take you to make a billion? Two times five makes 10, and three zeros makes ten thousand and three more ten million and two more makes one billion. Now that's silly, no one lives 200,000 years.

Let's try another way. Suppose you spent a penny a minute every day but Sunday during your hours awake. Say you are awake 16 hours a day. Sixteen times 60 is $9.60 a day. Six days a week makes that $57.60 a week, and 52 times that makes it $2,995.20 a year. Shoot, that will take nearly 400,000 years.

How about this. A penny a second would mean $36 an hour and $576 a day. In a week's time, you'd have spent $3,456 and at the end of a year, the total would be $179,712. Let's see, it would take something over 5,500 years to spend a billion. No one we ever heard of lived that long, either.

We guess we just can't get it small enough to understand. Anyhow, a billion dollars is about what Congress wants to spend on federal aid to education in the next four years—it's about 1/72nd of the federal budget and 1/280th of the national debt.

Help Needed

The Dreamland Cemetery Association needs some help from the readers of the Canyon News, especially those readers who have long memories and have lived in this area for a long time.

The association has a long list of names of people who own grave spaces or lots in the cemetery, but they have no record of the addresses of the people or their heirs.

The Canyon News will print each week a portion of the list. Study the names, and if you have an idea about an address call or write the association. The box number is 877, Canyon, and the telephone is OL 5-3051.

This week's list includes:

Amendments No. 8 & 9

Amendments 8 and 9 on the general election ballot are the last of the amendments proposed for the Texas Constitution this year. We still believe that there should be one more amendment or bill, proposing a constitutional convention to draft a new constitution. As you have seen, most of this year's set of amendments are actually matters for the legislature rather than the constitution.

Amendment No. 8 would add a new subsection to section 51a, Article III to allow changes in the old-age pension fund, and other such funds—mainly to allow the acceptance of federal money and providing that the state shall not pay out more than it gets from the federal government.

We must vote against the amendment on principle. We believe that if we must use tax money for such a purpose, we should send the tax money directly to Austin rather than to Washington and back to Austin. The round-trip fare is cheaper to the state headquarters.

The ninth amendment is one that we have already heard from, and we'll probably hear from again. That's the one that would allow the establishment of a hospital district with the same boundaries with the city of Amarillo and including all of Potter County. None of Randall County, except that part inside Amarillo, is included in the amendment.

The amendment would also allow the establishment of hospital districts in Wichita and Jefferson Counties.

Provisions of the amendment require that the people in those proposed districts must vote to establish them before it can be done. We're in favor of allowing the people in Amarillo to decide whether or not they want a hospital district. We'll vote for the amendment.

Mighty Light

The other night we drove to the office, went in for a few minutes, came out and drove off home.

It wasn't until we passed Fifth Avenue headed south on 15th Street that we realized we hadn't turned our lights on. Those new streetlights around the square are really bright, aren't they?

Fall Reminders

At noon on Monday, dove season opened in the Panhandle. Fishing season is still open and other bird seasons are yet to come.

But the 1957-58 license ran out at midnight Sunday. If you plan to hunt or fish any this fall, be sure to get a new license on sale with wardens, sporting goods stores and county clerks.

The game and fish commission has added this note of caution: "If you are inclined to be careless, check your life insurance policy."

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By BOYCE HOUSE

In 10 years, Ira G. Yates — it was estimated — received $5,000,000 as his share of the wealth that poured from the wells in the wonder-working field that bore his name.

Yates was born in Hopkins County, Texas, Oct. 29, 1859, the youngest son in a family of four boys and two girls. His father died when Ira was six, and in those difficult times following the Civil War, the widow and her family traveled by wagon to Wilson County, in the ranching country of South Texas. When Ira was 12, his mother died.

One of his first jobs was digging peanuts at 50 cents a day. Then the boy did ranch work in the Live Oak country and soon he was handling cattle that were being driven to Rockport and Powderhorn for shipment to Cuba and elsewhere.

The only formal schooling he received was at 14 and was due to an accident. His horse fell on the youth, whose right ankle was severely injured. He rode the forty miles, without water or food and suffering greatly, to the Thompson ranch, where he was employed, and while he was recovering, the governess of the Thompson children taught him to write. His first letter was to a sister, the first word the family had received from Ira since he had left home.

From the Thompson ranch, he went to work for J. N. Upton in Karnes County and, at 17, had saved enough money to start trading in cattle, horses and mules. In 1883, when he was 23, he married a widow with one son — Ann S. Brooks, daughter of a Methodist minister. A son was born in Karnes County and not long afterward they moved to Tom Green County, where their other seven children were born. Yates' stepson, H. C. Brooks, was considered as much of the family as the eight other children.

Yates served as city marshall of San Angelo in 1889. He engaged in ranching, ran a store at Rankin for a year and a half, then traded the store and obtained the 21-section ranch which was to prove the location of the great oil field.

In 1928, on account of his health, he moved to Bexar County, making his home at Wetmore — but "home" to him always meant San Angelo.

He divided the ranch under trust into 11 shares, he and his wife each retaining a share and one going to each of the nine children.

"I have spent and invested the money I have received with the people of West Texas," Yates said. "I felt that it was my moral obligation to spend this money among the people I have known all my life and who have done many things for me. I have bought property in West and South Texas." (One such purchase was a ranch of 23,000 acres in San Saba county). "I have made loans to ranchmen and other citizens in this section. I have never bought any stocks and bonds but have invested all my money in the country and with the people I have been associated with all my life.

"I hope I will not be considered a tiresome old man when I say that my heart is hourly in San Angelo and the surrounding country. I love the people and the country, which has been home to me since I was a young man.

"No other place is home to me. I moved to San Antonio on the advice of my doctor on account of my nervous condition and my health is better than it has been for several years."

In 1938, Mrs. Yates died and Yates' death occurred in Seton Infirmary in Austin, on April 12, 1939, from pneumonia. The funeral was held in Ira Yates' beloved San Angelo.

Old before its time?

For example, the life of a tire may be shortened as much as 25% merely as a result of chronic under-inflation. Over-inflation is bad, too.

Best way to avoid premature aging of your tires is to let your Phillips 66 Dealer take care of them for you. He'll check them frequently, make sure they're properly inflated, and repair them if necessary. And, if a tire becomes unsafe, he can provide a new and dependable Phillips 66 Action-Tread Tubeless Tire.

Drive in at any station where you see the orange and black Phillips 66 Shield.

What Our Neighbors Say . . .

Scissor Snippings

Ernest Joiner in the Ralls Banner: Of the integration issue, there are growing indications that the government is relaxing its demands for swift and sudden integration in public schools. As we have said before, the U. S. Supreme Court lost the battle of Arkansas, and it will lose the battle elsewhere.

Forceful integration is foredoomed to failure. Legislation cannot create racial equality, and it cannot wipe out by decree traditions of a people matured over a period of 150 years. There is no court high enough to compel Negroes to start speaking with a Harvard accent.

There is no government powerful enough to dictate the friends and associates of any American. Social and economic equality are items to be won; they are not legislated into existence. A government that is not powerful enough to rid the Teamsters Union of its leadership of thieves, murderers and gangsters is not powerful enough to order a reversal of human nature.

If a person is to have "full citizenship," then he must also assume the full responsibilities of citizenship. A beginning has been made. Where Negroes have applied themselves, they have gained recognition among all races. They have achieved a measure of social equality and economic equality. Integration is, and must remain, a matter of individual determination to rise above the average.

Bootstraps are involved, not legislation. The Negroes who have become educated, cultured and valued members of our society were not ordered by the courts to be that way, they ordered themselves to be that way. That's the way it is with white folks, too, and if it's good enough for the white folks it's good enough for the colored folks.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

A long-term agricultural Program for the Great Plains is being carried out by the people of the Plains with the help of local, State, and Federal Governments. The goal is a more stable agriculture, more dependable sources of income, and progressively better livelihood for the people of the region.

The program looks forward to preserving and improving the region's productive capacity. It rests on the foundation blocks of further conservation, wise use, and management of soil and water resources. It recognizes that some Plains land must be returned to grass if the agriculture is to be stable.

The supervisors of the Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District urge each farmer and rancher to give serious consideration to the Great Plains Conservation Program.

Agencies of the United States Department of Agriculture are linked in this Great Plains Conservation Program. The Soil Conservation Service has administrative responsibility, but other agencies help according to their assingments. The agencies are Farmers Home Administration, Extension Service, Agricultural Conservation Program, Commodity Stabilization Service, Agricultural Research Service, Federal Crop Research Service, Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, and the Office of Information.

Farmers and ranchers can apply at any local USDA office for help under the Great Plains Conservation Program.

In the Great Plains Conservation Program (Public Law 1021), the Federal Government offers cost-share help to speed changes in land use and cropping systems and the application of soil and water conservation practices required by these changes.

Cost-sharing (from 50 to 80 per cent of the average cost) for needed conservation measures is guaranteed by contract with the Department of Agriculture. The length of the contract (from 3 to 10 years) is determined by the time required to carry out the complete farm or ranch plan approved by the Secretary of Agriculture, which that contract supports.

The Soil Conservation Service offers assistance to any farmer or rancher who wishes to become a cooperator with the Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District or work toward a Great Plains Conservation Program contract, if eligible. SCS assistance involves four principal steps:

1. The farmer or rancher is given a soil and land capability map of his land.

2. The conservationist gives the farmer or rancher information about practical alternatives for treatment and use of the land within its capability. The operator decides upon a basic plan that includes land-use adjustments and combinations of practices needed to conserve and use the soil and water resources for efficient and productive farming.

3. SCS technicians help the operator apply the parts of the plan that require special skills or knowledge, such as engineering design and layout for construction jobs and guidance in planting and managing pastures, ranges, and wildlife areas.

4. The technicians give the guidance needed to maintain and improve the farm or ranch conservation plan after it is applied to the land.

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

This letter is being written on, what I hope is, the day before adjournment. I have wished this so many times that I doubt it will be true this time. The ever expectant adjournment is like a sword of Damocles hanging over the heads of those having pet bills they desire for the Congress to pass session.

The constant buttonholing that you undergo during these last days would lead one to believe that this is the last session of Congress that will ever be held. The fact is that, if we do not hurry up and adjourn, we will overlap the 86th session of Congress which is scheduled to be convened on January 3, 1959.

Most, if not all, of the bills now on the calendar could very well rest for a few months without great danger to the nation. In fact, many of the problems sought to be solved by these bills would probably solve themselves during the four months interim.

MEDAL FOR RICKOVER

The Congress last week unanimously approved a resolution calling for the award of a Special Congressional Gold Medal of Merit to Admiral Hyman G. Rickover. Admiral Rickover is recognized as the father of the nuclear powered submarine.

His efforts to push the project were blocked on several occasions by his superior officers. His extreme dedication to the project prompted him to go over the heads of his superiors in order to salvage it. In the Military, such action is considered unforgivable.

However, Rickover did save the project and the result is that the development of the atomic undersea vessel is one phase of military defense in which the United States can claim exclusive leadership. Many people felt that Admiral Rickover's previous activities had placed him in a position of persona non grata with the high brass in the Defense Department; that because of such situation, Rickover was not invited to the White House for the commemoration ceremonies relating to the undersea crossing at the North Pole.

Whether or not the Admiral was deliberately snubbed by the White House and high Defense brass is a question for those departments to answer. But the Congress, the representatives of the people, have recognized Admiral Rickover's great contribution to this country and the world.

ALASKA

The admission of Alaska into the sisterhood of states has brought forth a deluge of schemes, projects and what-have-you concerning this great area. Advertisements are appearing all over the United States indicating great opportunities with high pay and high return in Alaska.

I have discussed this matter at length with my good friend, Bob Bartlett, the present delegate from Alaska, who is running for the United States seat in the new state.

Mr. Bartlett advises me that it would be well for everyone to thoroughly examine all such schemes, plans or projects. He tells me that there are no unfilled high-paying jobs in Alaska and that people should not go there with the expectation of grabbing off a job with high pay.

Anyone wanting to go to Alaska should have ample funds to sustain themselves, just as they would in any other state of the United States. It is expected that many fraudulent schemes will be attempted. I sincerely hope that anyone desiring information on the subject will request the information form my office and not depend upon some unknown and possibly false organization that might have been set up to bilk the people.

A NEW ERA

The world is definitely moving into a new era in which there will be opportunities that will challenge the credibility of man. An entirely new field of technology is being opened as earthman prepares to move into outer space and to explore the other planets.

These operations will require a vast amount of high heat resistant metals and minerals in which the United States is sadly deficient. Surely there must be vast deposits of these minerals on our continent that have not been discovered, just as there were ample supplies of uranium about which we knew nothing until a program was devised making it profitable for people to go out and find it.

Iron melts at 2802 degrees F. and is, therefore, unsatisfactory in meeting the needs to package the rockets, missiles and containers that will be necessary for utilization in outer space. The metal that will probably be most in demand is tungsten, which has a melting point of 6143 degrees F. and columbium, with a melting point of 4379 degrees F., both of which are highly important in the manufacture of high temperature alloys and electronic equipment.

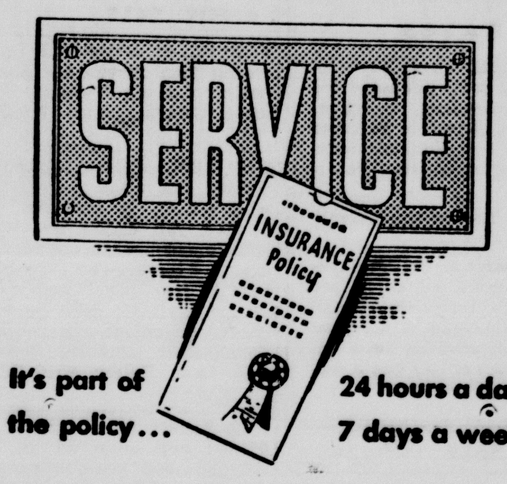

Ninety-nine per cent of the columbium and tantalum processed in the United States is imported, and the world supply has seldom been adequate since before World War II. Another is chromium, which has a melting point of 3434 degrees F. Virtually all of this metal consumed in the United States is obtained from foreign sources.

ANTI-CLIMAX

Jones had taken his car to a garage for minor repairs.

"You wouldn't think it was a second-hand car, would you?" he remarked to the mechanic.

"Great Scott, no!" said the mechanic. "I thought you made it yourself."

OWNED BY
ROUTE 3
AMARILLO, TEXAS

Mrs. Detton's Recipe for APPLE STRUDEL

Beat one egg in cup. Fill cup with lukewarm water. Add 2 cups of flour (a good pint). Add a pinch of salt and mix well. Beat and knead (by picking up dough and throwing or hitting it on table) until white blisters appear. Divide into 4 parts and cover each. Let stand 2 hours. Roll and pull tissue-paper thin. Spread with sliced apples, sugar, cinnamon, butter and sour cream. Roll up — place in greased pan. Bake in moderate oven for one hour, basting with hot milk. Apple strudel may be frozen unbaked. After removing from freezer, bake, basting with hot milk. Bake slightly longer than one hour.
from an old Austrian Recipe

Ever look into the bright, expectant faces of hungry children eagerly awaiting a freshly-baked cookie? Or see the downcast, disappointed look that only kids can show when the cookie supply is "all out?" Mrs. Detton knows that look — that's one reason she's so pleased with her electric home freezer. She bakes large supplies of cookies, in advance — then freezes 'em. The happy faces of her grandchildren stay happy because Grandmother Detton just never runs out. She's always good for a fresh cookie, thanks to her electric home freezer — the first upright model in the Panhandle of Texas.

Labor Day weekend is, by custom, summer's last fling. For millions it's a chance for a little more swimming, fishing or boating before school starts.

But for safety officials, it's a headache. They spend the weekend picking up the pieces, totaling up the score of those for whom this "last fling" was really the last.

Department of Public Safety statisticians, who base their "guesses" on grim experience, predicted 29 traffic deaths in Texas over the holiday weekend.

Out to beat the odds was a combination of public agencies and private organizations cooperating in a drive spearheaded by Gov. Price Daniel.

Texas Traffic Safety Council, the Governor's Highway Safety Commission and DPS assisted by several statewide civic organizations and trade associations in emphasizing the importance of careful driving.

Governor Daniel proclaimed the Labor Day weekend as "Deathless Days in Texas" and the following week as "Back to School Highway Safety Week." Through school officials and assisting groups safety tags and programs were brought to millions of school children.

This sort of thing has been done before, every year, but there was special emphasis and wider participation this year. Texas safety leaders are straining to set a record of 10 per cent fewer traffic deaths this year. Goal, set by the governor, is in sight. Thus far, 1958 fatalities are 14 per cent less than for the same period last year.

Ultimate success hinged on being able to "keep the lid on" through the holiday. If it can be done, several hundred Texans, not expected to be, will be alive at the end of the year.

NO SPECIAL SESSION

Governor Daniel said he would not call a special session of the Legislature to extend unemployment payments to jobless Texans.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson recently ruled that Texas could not take advantage of a new federal plan to advance states money for 12 additional weeks of employment pay without a special law by the Legislature.

Governor Daniel pointed out that (1) the recession seemed to be easing, (2) the Legislature would be in regular session in less than five months and (3) more than half of the same 54,000 who had used up all their unemployment benefits were housewives, students or others only temporarily in the labor market.

But State AFL-CIO President Jerry Holleman sharply criticized the governor's position. He declared the state's unemployed workers have already lost $8,500,000 by Texas' failure to act.

Said Holleman, "If the oil industry or the insurance industry or any other industry were losing that kind of money and the governor had the power to stop it, I believe he would act."

Daniel retorted that the additional federal benefits were offered as a loan, not a gift, and would have to be repaid by Texas taxpayers. "It is not a matter of picking up free money."

BIGGER OIL FLOW

For the third straight month, Texas oil production will inch up. Railroad Commission set the September allowable at 3,173,736 barrels a day on a 12-day producing pattern.

This will be a 228,302 barrel-a-day increase from August.

Oil production, cornerstone of the state's economy and prime source of tax revenue, was in a deep slump for more than a year. As demand dwindled and crude oil stocks piled up, the Railroad Commission was forced to make deeper and deeper cuts in permitted production. During April, May and June an all-time low of eight producing days was maintained.

Upturn began in July with nine days of production, continued in August with 11 days. At the hearing to set September production, one major buyer asked for 14 days, saying his company's crude stocks were at the lowest level in 19 years.

REFEREES

A credentials committee has been appointed to settle any hassles that may come up as to which delegates shall be seated at the Sept. 9 Democratic convention in San Antonio.

Committee members, announced by Executive Committee Chairman Jim Lindsey, are Judge Earl Sharp, Longview, chairman; James P. Bailey, Houston; Larry Blackmon, Mineral Wells; Mrs. Arthur Harris Sr., Bay City; Mrs. Dorothy Gurley, Del Rio.

Notice of contests (at least five are foreseen) must be submitted to the committee 10 days in advance of the convention. Hearings will be held the day before the convention.

SLIPPED, BUT NOT HURT

Despite a 2 per cent dip in Texas business activity, experts read Texas' economic signposts as generally favorable.

University of Texas Bureau of Business Research labeled the June decline as probably a "random variation."

"On the whole," observed BBR staffer Francis B. May, "this recession has manifested itself in Texas primarily as an interruption of the upward progress of the economy, a leveling off, more than a decline." Diversification of the economy has helped, said May, with an improvement in agriculture helping to offset the decline in oil.

Looking ahead, May could see "nothing in the immediate future to augment the recession; consequently, recovery seems the most likely course of events."

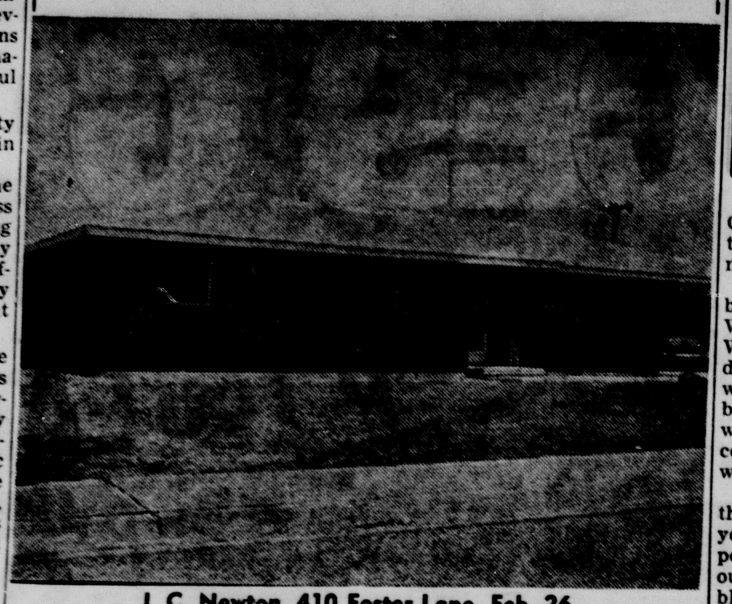

BBR noted that Texas building is at a level approaching the "boom" stage with permits for the first six months of the year 2 per cent above the previous January-June record.

SHORT SNORTS

State Highway Commission tabuloaed $24,259,167 in low bids on road construction projects. August lettings covered 584 miles of work.

A fourth polio shot (or booster) may me considered desirable to give a high level of protection, especially in high-incidence areas, says the State Health Department.

Have you seen the wind lately? Or listened to its song? If you're the average grown-up, you have not.

The wind, like a little child, brings both happiness and grief. When it is calm, we are soothed. We enjoy picnics, walking, outdoor sports. We think not of the wind, but of the things we can do because it is quiet. When it roars, we are annoyed, and now we think consciously and unhappily of the wind itself.

The other day we saw and heard the wind as a stranger. It was the year-and-a-half-old grandson who pointed it out. We were making our daily beat to the end of the block when a stiff breeze swept through the big elm tree overhanging a neighbor's drive. The boughs rustled and swayed.

"Hi!" he called, holding up his little hands. "Hi!" And his toothy smile welcomed the wind to our day.

Farther on, he watched a dead maple limb skitter and skate along the walk, propelled by this mysterious force. He squealed with delight as he toddled along after it, squatting to touch it, then rising to follow.

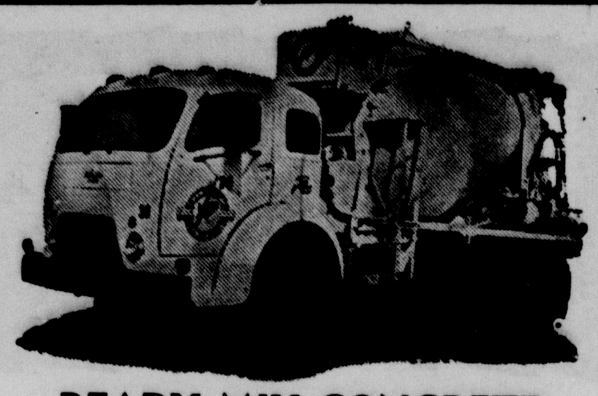

Today we sit on the terrace and watch its progress through the yard. It sings in the apricot tree, flirts with the myrtle, swings gaily through the redbud and the butterfly bush. Often in the mountains we have seen the wind in this happy mood, as it whispers through the aspen and the cottonwood; or pushes small waves across a mountain lake. But we are grateful to Little Mister for noticing it right here at home.

The need for a new High School was determined from a systematic study made by a 132 member citizens committee. Enrollment has increased at all levels in the Canyon Public Schools. The enrollment in 1949 was 726 students, in 1957 it was 1225. The citizen's committee reported a 40% growth by 1963. This will mean an enrollment of 1,800 by 1963.

Cost of the new high school will be approximately $1,000,000. No change in the school tax rate will be necessary until the 159-60 school year. If the bond issue passes under the provisions of Senate Bill 116, the school tax rate will be approximately $1.80 per $100.00 valuation compared to the present $1.50 rate.

If you have questions about the proposed building program of the Canyon Independent School District, attend the meeting Thursday night in the High School auditorium.

MRS. WILLIAM CONWAY

Marcus Robinson, William Conway Marry In Double Ring Service in Happy Church

On August 30 at 8:00 p.m. Marcus Robinson and William Edward Conway II were united in marriage by Rev. Walter C. Hadley in a double ring ceremony in the First Methodist Church in Happy.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Robinson of Happy, and the groom is the son of Mrs. M. L. McFarland of Happy and William B. Conway of Amarillo.

Prenuptial music played by the organist, Mrs. Glenn Dowlen, was "Indian Love Call" by Friml, "Ah! Sweet Mystery of Life" by Trenkaus, "Liebestraum" by Liszt, and "Thine Alone" by Herbert. She accompanied Glenn Wade Dowlen, Jr., soloist, who sang "Oh, Promise Me" by Reginold de Koven and a trio composed of Sue Danner, Linda Allison and Marie Dowlen, who sang "True Love" by Porter, and "Marcheta" by Schertzinger as the bride came down the aisle. The bride was named for "Marcheta".

Candlelighter was Willa Jane Elliott, and the ring bearer was Mary Cole Forbus, cousin of the bride. Donna Ann Magness, niece of the groom, and Rene Harwood, cousin of the bride were flower girls. They wore identical floor-length dresses of petal pink cotton satin accented with self bows in the back and wristlets of cerise carnations.

Judy Boyd, maid of honor, wore a ballerina-length dress of petal pink cotton satin fashioned with a fitted bodice, scoop neckline and bouffant skirt. She wore a matching half hat with face veil and carried a bouquet of cerise and pink ribbon centered with a fan holding cerise carnations.

Bridesmaids, Janet Middleton, Carollee Hancock, Nancy Cobb of Plainview and Betty Jean Foster of Lockney, wore ensembles identical to that of the honor attendant and carried bouquets of pink and cerise ribbon centered with fans holding pink carnations.

Ross Elliott served as best man, and groomsman was Charles McCaslin. Ushers were Don Magness, Vonnie Fields and Pat Blessing.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white tulle and venice lace over taffeta featuring a scalloped sabrina neckline, fitted lace bodice and long sleeves tapering to petal points over the hands. The floor-length bouffant skirt of tulle was accented with venice lace applique of rosebuds. Her double-tiered fingertip veil of imported silk illusion was attached to an elegant queens crown, created of hand clipped chantilly lace aglow with sequins and pearls. She carried a white Rainbow Bible topped with a white orchid and stephanotis tied with streamers of white satin.

Mother of the bride, Mrs. Robinson wore a toast colored lace sheath dress with matching accessories and a corsage of bronze frenched mums. Mrs. McFarland chose a mauve colored sheath dress of Chantilly lace with matching accessories and a corsage of pink delight rosebuds.

At the reception which followed in the country home of the bride's parents, the serving table was draped in bridal satin with nylon net ruffles held in place with white satin ribbon and minature frosted wedding bells. It was centered with a footed crystal bowl of white carnations and stock flanked by crystal candelabra bearing white tapers. Mrs. Don Magness, sister of the groom, served the wedding cake, and Mrs. Bill Harwood, aunt of the bride, ladled punch. Mrs. Pat Blessing registered the guests.

Assisting with the reception were Mrs. Jack Middleton, Mrs. Waren Walberg, Mrs. Copus Boyd, Mrs. Bruce Fields, Mrs. Joed Forbus, Mrs. Bruce Cobb, Mrs. W. E. Conway, Mrs. A. C. Miller, Mrs. S. L. Robinson, Mrs. Tom Lollar, Cherri Crouch, Janet Middleton and Bob Ann Loudder.

For a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N. M., the bride traveled in a turquoise transition cotton and silk suit with pink accessories and a white orchid corsage. After Sept. 7, the couple will be at home in Canyon.

A graduate of Canyon High School, Mrs. Conway will be a junior at West Texas State College for the fall semester. The bridegroom graduated from Happy High School and will also be a junior at West Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. McFarland, parents of the bridegroom, were hosts at a rehearsal dinner in Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church in Happy on Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Clem Dugan and Annelle returned this week from a vacation trip through Yellowstone National Park, Canada, Washington and Oregon. They were accompanied by Mrs. Dugan's sister, Mrs. Kate Lock of Amarillo.

Courtesies Honor Dorothy Neblett

Dorothy Neblett, bride-elect of Kemper Perkins, was feted with a luncheon on Aug. 21 at the Amarillo Country Club. A piece of sterling was the gift of the hostesses, Mrs. Frank Kimbrough and Mrs. Walter Graham.

On Aug. 19, in the home of Mrs. Felix Pierce, another luncheon was given in her honor with Mrs. Alice Vigne, Mrs. Cecil Simms and Mrs. Gerald Dietz as hostesses. A plate painted by Mrs. Pierce was the gift.

The serving table, laid with a cutwork cloth, was centered with a bird cage pierced by an arrow with two blue lovebirds sitting on it. In the cage were fall flowers.

Pouring were Mrs. Lee Foster, Pauline Brigham and Mrs. O. G. Eckhardt of Amarillo. Helping in the dining room were Carol Brown, Janice Miller, Linda Lowes, Marie Dowlen, Sally Foster and Mary Pat Haley.

Delegates Report On State Meeting

A report on the state meeting of Texas Home Demonstration Association highlighted yesterday's meeting of the Randall County Home Demonstration Council in the Farm Bureau building.

Making the report were the County's delegates, Mrs. R. A. Hodges, Mrs. Dick Barrett and Mrs. Marion Williams, who along with Mrs. Mona K. Hildreth, county home demonstration agent, attended the convention held in August in Austin.

In a skit, the three delegates presented the highlights of the meeting, from workshops to the Progressive Farmer Woman of the Year Award. The award went to Mrs. Neveille Colson, state senator, who introduced the first Farm-to-Market road legislation. Texas, with over 30,000 miles of Farm-to-Market roads, now leads the nation.
